

A Member of AA on EXPECTATIONS AND HUMILITY

Since the big book tells me to be quick to see where religious people are right, I'll start by quoting Luke's gospel. After squandering his inheritance on "riotous living," the prodigal son sobers up and, realizing he has come to the end of his rope, resolves to return home and ask his dad for a job. He said, "I am no longer worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants." The father's subsequent compassion and merry making at his son's return is beside the point I want to make here. The parable is often cited as an allegory of God's grace for his children, and while that reading is appropriate, it perhaps misses the relevant human component—the humble attitude the son adopts when making his return.

Our book's second appendix lists honesty, open-mindedness, and willingness as the indispensables of recovery, but if I had to choose one trait to base my sobriety on it would be humility. In my life it has been something of a cure-all for the symptoms of our disease. For example, when I practice humility, my secrets don't seem so important. I realize I don't have everything figured out, so it's easy to consider new ideas. I find I am more willing to accept people and situations exactly as they are, so I chafe less against the friction of life, and I am slower to resentment and self-pity. As Bill writes in the 12 and 12's chapter on step 7, "the attainment of greater humility is the foundation principle of each of A.A.'s Twelve Steps."

Am I then content to live my life as one of God's servants, whatever may come? Or am I secretly hoping that, by serving for a time, my own selfish demands will be met? I know from experience that to meet God with an unspoken ultimatum produces no comfortable sobriety. Eventually, after I realize I won't get what I want when I want it, I become resentful and envious—restless, irritable and discontent. If I make my service conditional on certain terms, I need to retake step 1. My life is unmanageable; I am in no position to negotiate. True, the chapter to the agnostic says that God does not make too hard terms with those who seek, but God makes the terms. I seek.

"It is one of the most beautiful compensations of life, that no man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself."

-Ralph Waldo Emerson

COMMUNITY NEWS

W&W's: At the time of this printing, the new and improved Where and When's will be in stock at Intergroup. Stop by and pick up a few for your group.

ZOOM: If you are the host for an online ZOOM meeting listed on the website, please be sure to notify the Webmaster if the meeting has closed. <webmaster@aagainesville.org>

Contributions: Thirty-three groups in Gainesville and the surrounding area contributed $11,186.46 to Intergroup in 2022. That's almost enough to keep the doors open for 6 months! We sincerely appreciate the groups that help to support Intergroup. If your group is not one of them, please consider adding us to your 7th Tradition disbursements.

Individual contributions and Faithful 5,10, 25er's totaled $1627.18 in 2022. We appreciate all who help us help the still suffering alcoholic.

PayPal/ Venmo: If your group is contributing through PayPal or Venmo we don't know what group to give credit if you don't include the group name in comments. At least PayPal gives me an email I can contact to find out but sometimes that doesn't work (as in I don't get a response). Venmo does not give me an email.

Amends: Due to a scheduling glitch, the Intergroup office did not open on Tuesday January 10. We apologize for any inconvenience. Call me if there's something I can make right.

Holiday: Intergroup will be open on 02/20/2023, Presidents' Day.

Thank you for the opportunity to serve.

Tradition 2

The Steps are HOW IT WORKS.
The Traditions are WHY IT WORKS.

"For our group purpose there is but one ultimate authority – a loving God as he may express himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants, they do not govern."

It was one of those memorable meetings that we are sometimes privileged to attend. In Australia, people do not volunteer to speak at an Alcoholics Anonymous meeting but are called by name or are pointed to by the chairperson. A few pass by simply saying that they will "just identify" with their name and the fact that they are an alcoholic, but most come up to the front and have a go at sharing.

The person in the chair was an Aussie bloke who called mostly males only to speak. After the first few men spoke the females were getting restless after the next few guys spoke, some of the women got really agitated, and then after a few more mostly male calls, one of the women literally exploded.

She stood up and shouted "No! That's it, you sexist pig! Are we invisible? Not worth hearing?" Our chairperson said: "Look, I'm in the chair and I'll call whoever I am moved to pick and it isn't you so sit down and respect the meeting!"

An old-timer jumped up, raised hands high and yelled "Group Conscience, Group Conscience..." like a chant. A few others picked up the chant and a momentary silence fell.

"Tradition two on the banner there indicates that I was a member of this group can call for a Group Conscience meeting at any time and I call for one right now!"

The woman was asked: "Please state your case to us all". She did. She said that fairness required that women speakers alternate with men until the females had all had a chance to either pass or speak.

The man in the chair was then asked to please state his case. He said that he had determined that there were five times more men in the room than women so he thought that it would be fair to call on women one-fifth of the time.

Others were asked for any other comments. There were a few more women who felt slighted and only one friend of the chairman who agreed with him. A moment of silent reflection was called for, to ask our respective higher powers to guide us in voting and then all were asked to close their eyes except for the aggrieved woman and the chairman who would together count the raised hands for each method.

The woman's "boy-girl" alternative method was obviously overwhelmingly approved and we all settled down for a lovely second part of the meeting.

It's not the first time I have seen a "Group Conscience" called for during a meeting but it was the most dramatic. –Aussie Chuck

Step 2

“Came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.”

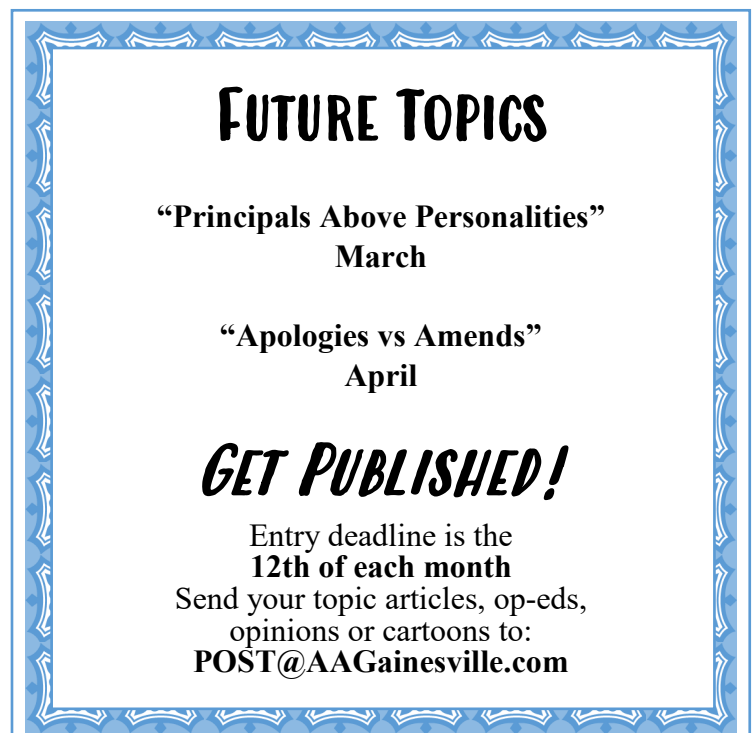

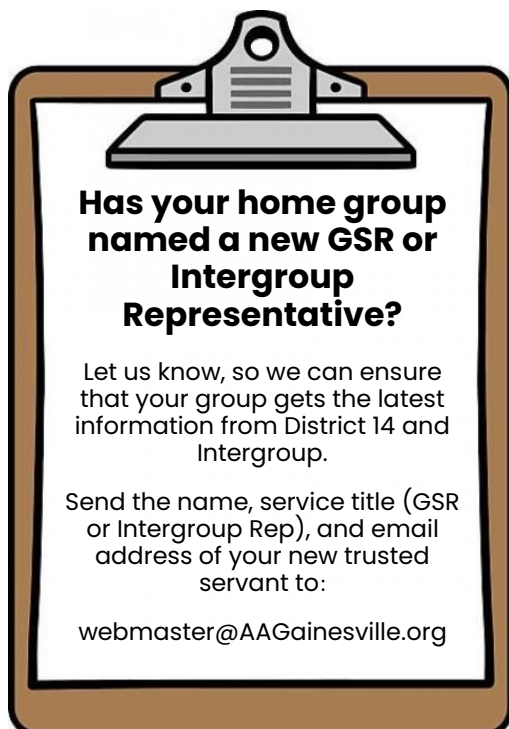

For me, step two is about Hope. It works because I can see it work in others in this program.

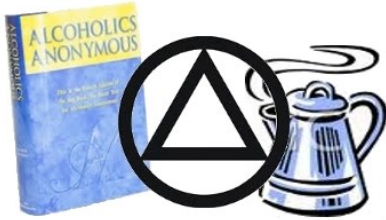

Initially, I had no idea anybody could live sober. I had the false idea that we go to treatment to be taught how to drink and use responsibly. From the pit of despair I found at my bottom, I knew I had no power to help my situation. I had tried for years to moderate, change, and control my drinking. It got the best of me, worse and worse every time. I knew the only options left to my own power were to continue using and eventually die.

I wasn't aware of a power that could relieve my obsession. I had no hope in any God or miracle treatment known to science. I knew my old way of living was no good. So I became willing to listen to whatever they told me.

I really appreciate the open minded-ness practiced in this program. I was told that I didn't need to believe anything specific and that many AAs had found innumerable paths in their quest for faith. This was really relieving. I didn't know what was out there but I was willing to try and find it. I was a blind man crawling. But I could see the results of the other members that had done their own crawling. I was encouraged but not instructed.

I consider myself very fortunate to have had a religious upbringing. I don't believe in it at all these days. However, it did help to have an open mind to believe in forces at work that couldn't exactly be seen. My understanding of faith in a Higher Power continues to grow everyday. I experience prejudice and cynicism every now and then. But the fact that I am relieved of the obsession to drink as I used to, is something that never fails to bring me back to believing in the Power that heals us alcoholics. - Arnie S.

Intergroup Chairperson's Corner

Hello and Happy New Year everyone, I hope sobriety finds you well. New year presents new opportunities for service. Elections have come and gone for Intergroup, but the great news is, there are service positions still available!! Yes, but you must act now before they're filled. Service is a vital part of our community and of the AA legacy. Also, our annual Alkathon was a great success!! Our appreciation goes out to the groups and to the Triangle Club for helping it happen. We look forward to the next one. Come by for our Intergroup meeting on the last Sunday of each month at the Triangle Club at 1 pm to find our about Service positions to stand for and events that are coming up. We hope to see you there.

Yours in service,

Matthew C

DCM'S CORNER

Happy New Year to all our AA friends in District 14. It is my great honor to begin my 2-year term as your DCM. Tobi did such a wonderful job, I hope I can do the same! They say that doing service is the key to keeping your sobriety. Maybe you can join us in service in one of the following positions: Alternate DCM; Secretary; Treasurer; and Chairperson of the Corrections Committee? Please come to our District meetings on the second Wednesday of the month at 6:30 p.m. at Westminster Presbyterian Church. Let's have some fun and fellowship as we walk the road of Happy Destiny in service to our friends in recovery!

Our first job will be to attend the first Area Assembly for this panel. It takes place January 13-15, in Howey-in-the-Hills at the Mission Inn. There will be many workshops for new GSRs and new DCMs (like me), workshops on the Traditions and the Service Manual and speaker meetings. Your GSR will be bringing helpful and interesting information back to your home group soon! So, stay tuned!

In love and service (for free and for fun),

Eve C., DCM for District 14
